

QLYC....“Messabout” Day at the Club Sunday Dec 2, 2012

A quiet day of fun with OTB on Swan Bay!!

Another day organised by our “OTB Captain” Geoffrey was held and whilst the early part of the day was a little misty!!....the club again showed off its best with a lot of craft and quite a number of young energetic visitors for another “Messabout” day.

Again around thirty people took time to partake of a BBQ and the offerings of the club in all types of water craft from canoes, kayaks, off the beach sailing and just some paddling!

The burgee was flying above the fleet on the water and showing the good wind available to her sailors!

A veritable choice of craft were available to try and use as people saw fit to exercise their judgement, although most of the youngsters did it all!!

Competent sailors old and young were adventuring into the length and breadth of Swan Bay....everyone was showing their colours...

And the paddlers were taking to the area with gusto...showing plenty of skill and tenacity!

Swan Bay turned on a beautiful afternoon with gentle breezes and some gusts to speed the yachting venturers.

Some brought their own craft to join in with the adventurous sailors and display their handiwork.

A BBQ lunch and a few quiet lemonades bought out the paddlers at least temporarily before everyone gave it a second shot!

Thanks to Commodore Jill and committee with Geoff Mathews, Ross and Monica Nitz leading the preparations and organisation, the day proved that sailing is alive and well on Swan Bay.

Watch out for the next "Messabout" day in the new year of 2013 ...please come down for more fun and frivolity!
